

A rapid, secure, and scalable platform for deploying real-time collaboration apps from ConnectSolutions[®]

What is FlashGrid™

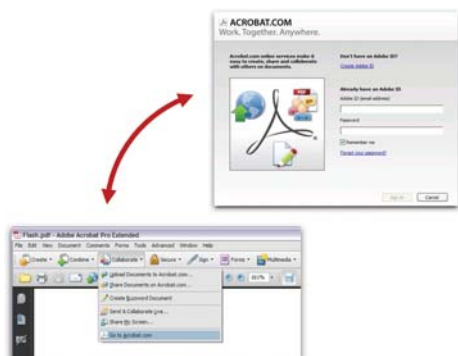

A rapid, secure, and scalable solution for deploying real-time communication (RTC) applications. Powered by Adobe® Flash™ Collaboration Service, FlashGrid™ provides organizations with the ability to extend their existing investments in CRM, ERP, Portal, and Desktop applications with real-time communication capabilities such as video, VoIP, and chat, or even create entirely new applications.

Powered by Adobe® Flash Collaboration Service™

Comprised of both Flex-based client components and a dedicated, managed services infrastructure, Adobe® Flash Collaboration Service™ allows you to build real-time, multi-user applications with Flex in less time than ever before.

Who is using it now?

Millions of users worldwide are utilizing this technology everyday at Acrobat.com™ and within Adobe® Acrobat® 9 to share and store documents, collect and distribute forms, and to co-navigate and synchronize document views when working together across timezones and continents.

How Does FlashGrid™ benefit me?

FlashGrid™ offers standardized and scalable management of the services around the real-time communication applications you develop. Use any combination of the Adobe® Flash Collaboration Service™ SDK, the Flex SDK, the Adobe® Flash Player™ or an Adobe® Integrated Runtime™ (AIR) to focus on embedding RTC into existing applications or build new RTC applications.

Workcenters in the cloud

Build and enable your team to work the way they want in real-time across enterprise applications, platforms, and devices by utilizing the ubiquitous Adobe® Flash™ technology. FlashGrid™ will support the RTC applications you build from scratch or retrofit onto legacy enterprise systems whether for 1,000 or 100,000 users.

Why is this different?

As the industry's first managed services platform designed specifically for Adobe® Flash Collaboration Service™ our FlashGrid™ service; a rapid, secure, and scalable hosted service for deploying RTC applications, enables the largest of enterprises or government agencies to augment their existing applications and workflows with real-time collaboration and messaging capabilities regardless of scale, location or legacy.

For more information contact:
sales@connectsolutions.com or 1 800 860 1351
www.flashgrid.com